

Vulnerability Detection

The vulnerability assessment function will regularly scan Customer's system for new software component vulnerabilities and insecure system or network settings. A cloud-based scan engine will check for vulnerable internet accessible endpoints, while ActiveEye Remote Security Sensors will scan on-premises infrastructure. Motorola Solutions and Customer will work together to determine the optimal scan schedule and scope for Customer's system.